Here are your Tomato 'Cherry Baby' Seeds

Sow the tomato seed individually in cell trays, or 2 per plant pot, using a good quality seed compost. Transfer into 9cm pots once big enough, or thin out the weaker seedling if you have direct sown in a pot. When the plants have reached 2 true leaves, begin feeding weekly with a weak tomato feed.

Bush tomatoes provide a fuss-free tomato plant option, whether you're a novice or veteran fruit and veg grower! Bush tomatoes require little maintenance - no need to pinch outside shoots!

Here are your Alicante Seeds

Sow in an unheated greenhouse or on the kitchen windowsill in March / April for planting out April / May. Sow the tomato seed individually in cell trays, or 2 per plant pot, using a good quality seed compost. The shoots between leaf stalks and main stem should be removed. The growing tip is pinched out after three flower trusses have developed, this ensures that all fruit grows and ripens.
